Two Ways to Get Your Medicines

You can fill a 30-day supply of a covered¹ medicine for one copay at a local retail pharmacy.

There are over 65,000 pharmacies across the United States in the retail pharmacy network.

Get your maintenance medicines through our trusted home delivery pharmacy, Amazon Pharmacy.

Use home delivery to order up to a 90-day supply for one mail order copay.

A Word About Formularies

Your pharmacy benefit plan has a covered drug list (formulary). It includes an extensive list of medicines to treat almost all conditions. It is broken into tiers (or the cost level you pay). The tiers are generic, Preferred brand and non-Preferred brand. Choosing generics may save you money.

Ways We Help Keep You Safe

Your plan may require one or more of the following before you can fill your prescription:

- Prior authorization – This means you need plan approval to get coverage for a medicine prior to your prescription being filled. This encourages safe, cost-effective medicine use and makes sure a prescription is medically necessary. It may also be required for brand name medicines when a generic equivalent is available. If a medicine requires prior authorization for coverage or for the quantity, your doctor will need to provide information to us.
- Quantity limits – This means you are limited to getting a certain amount of medicine for each fill. This makes sure your medicine is being used correctly and you're taking the correct amount over a period of time.

Take Advantage of Home Delivery

If you are taking a medicine regularly over months or years to treat a chronic condition, consider home delivery through Amazon Pharmacy. For one mail order copay, you may be able to get up to 90-day supply delivered to your door. Prescriptions arrive in five days or less and may even save you money over a retail pharmacy.
